

CH-228
Old House Near St. Paul's Church (ruin)
Waldorf Private

circa 1790
and circa 1820

The earliest section of this two-story frame house was at the east end. Originally one-story with a catslide roof, the front portion was later raised to provide for a full second floor room. This half of the house had a large end chimney, a full cellar, and wide beaded sheathing boards.

In the early 19th century a two-story addition was made to the west end. Among its many interesting features was a pedimented entrance vestibule on the west end that had a transomed door and large louvered windows.
